To Whom It May Concern:

Re: Mr. Greg Frnka

It was my privilege and pleasure to work with Mr. Greg Frnka as the project Architect with the Birdville ISD over the past five years. As the Associate Superintendent for Finance, my area has had the direct responsibility for coordinating all construction initiatives for BISD.

In 2006 the district passed a $ 128.5 million bond election that included two new elementary buildings, a new Career and Technology Center, a new high school campus, comprehensive remodeling of another high school and locker room renovations at seven middle schools. Mr. Frnka was an integral part of the planning, designing, and building of each of those projects.

Having served for 34-plus years in Texas public schools and having worked with hundreds of professionals in elementary and secondary schools across the state, I would place Mr. Frnka among the very best in his professionalism and commitment to customer needs and BISD.

As you no doubt can tell from his credentials, he is an excellent architect. What may not be immediately apparent from a review of his application are his outstanding personal characteristics. His honesty, integrity, and professionalism are second to none. But perhaps his most significant trait is his personal commitment to the success of every project of BISD. Time and again he went the extra mile to ensure that projects were on time and within budget—which ours have been. Simply put, Greg Frnka was a fundamental reason that our 2006 Bond package completed and opened all projects successfully, on time and within budget.

An architectural firm working with school districts, or any clients, would be lucky to have Greg as a project or lead architect. It has been my honor to work with him for the benefit of the students of Birdville.

Sincerely,

Quentin S. Burnett

Associate Superintendent--Finance
